Molly's Story

One day, Jack was very busy making lots of little houses.

I sniffed around, going in and out of them, wondering what he was going to use them for. As it was a hot day, I curled up on the straw in one of the houses and had an afternoon nap.

When I woke up, I trotted over to see Landy. He was very upset because Jack hadn't made him a home! I tried to cheer him up by wagging my tail and running around, but it didn't help.

The next day we drove to our friend Florrie's house. We had so much fun, that Landy forgot about being upset. Florrie has lots of animals but, as she is getting old now, she wanted to find a new home for them.

Jack ran around trying to catching the goats and geese. He was laughing so much because it was so tricky to catch them, that he tripped and fell over!

The hens and ducks were in cages, so they clucked and quacked loudly in the back of Landy. It was very, very noisy driving everyone back to our home.

Then Pickup arrived with the pigs. I had to run around barking a lot as it was chaos! Pickup wasn't very nice about our new little farm, but we don't care what he thinks - we love it!
